

SAVANT PROTECTION RECEIVES NETWORK PRODUCT GUIDE 2010 PRODUCT INNOVATION
AWARD

Savant Protection Version 3.3 Selected a Winner in Software

Hudson, NH – March 1, 2010 – Savant Protection announced today that Network Products Guide, the industry's leading information technology research and advisory guide, has named Savant Protection Version 3.3 a winner of the 2010 Product Innovation Awards. This annually venerated award recognizes and honors vendors, large and small, from all over the world with innovative and ground-breaking products that are bringing essential and incremental changes and are setting the bar higher for others in all areas of information technology.

Savant Protection is the leader in Automated Application Whitelisting. The company's patented solution provides total control over all executables on end user devices eliminating the risks caused by malicious and unauthorized software. Savant Protection's next generation application whitelisting is the only solution that uses an "implicit" whitelist which stops even the most sophisticated malware attacks without the management overhead or productivity disruption to end users required by today's centralized whitelist signature approaches. "Innovation is not just about new products alone," says Rake Narang, editor-in-chief at Network Products Guide. "To succeed companies need to see innovation not as a one-time event but as something that has to continuously evolve and be improved upon over and over again. This requires putting greater focus on customer needs and making innovation the center of the company's way of developing better solutions. Innovative products such as Savant Protection's Automated Application Whitelisting are bringing significant and quantifiable improvements in security and compliance to a wide array of industries. Savant clearly understands its customers' needs; providing total control and security over endpoints without disrupting business."

"We are delighted that Network Products Guide has recognized our application whitelisting solution as best-in-class and ahead of the curve," said Paul Paget, CEO of Savant Protection. "In addition to our growing customer base, this award further validates our value proposition as a company that is providing organizations with solutions that are easy-to-deploy, seamless-to-use and offer the highest levels of endpoint security and compliance. We are committed to product innovation and to meeting our customers' evolving needs."
